

Membership is by election of:

- An already established chapter, requiring a majority vote of the membership under the supervision of at least one chapter faculty member or
- By a committee of faculty members in conformity with processes approved by the local chapter, Beta of Indiana

Under the same by-laws for membership, undergraduates must:

- Be currently enrolled in an academic program
- Have completed not less than 18 credit hours in anthropology and
- Have an overall G.P.A. in the University of not less than 3.5 and in the major or minor of not less than 3.6 (A-).

Fees

Individual lifetime membership fees are $25 and includes the cost of the certificate and ID card. Optional satin stoles for graduating seniors are available for an additional $25. Fee changes may be determined by the national office at any time.

Events

The Department sponsors an event to induct all new members chosen to join Lambda Alpha.
